

Legend

1. This paper is the second report on the dismantling and reconstruction of the Western Prasat Top, which was implemented from August to December 2013 by Nara National Research Institute for Cultural Properties.
2. The dismantling and reconstruction work was implemented with full cooperation from APSARA (Authority for the Protection and Management of Angkor and the Region of Siem Reap), the local authority in charge of cultural property protection. It also received technical support from the Japanese Government Team for Safeguarding Angkor (Japan-APSARA Safeguarding Angkor: JASA).
3. This report was written and edited by Hiroshi SUGIYAMA and Yuni SATO, members of the Department of Planning and Coordination who were directly involved in the project, with counsel from other researchers concerned. Photos contained herein were taken by the above members and local Cambodian project managers.
4. Subsequent reports shall be published hereafter in accordance with the progress of the project.
