Chapter I	Introduction	1
	1. Progress of the investigation of Yamadadera	1
	2. Publication of this report	3
Chapter II	History of Yamadadera	5
	1. The “Endorsement” in Jōgū Shōtoku hōō teisetsu	5
	A. Introduction	5
	B. Credibility of the historic materials	5
	C. Progress of construction	6
	2. Legends concerning Soga no Kurayamada Ishikawamaro	8
	A. Soga no Kura clan	8
	B. The Taika Reform and the Minister of the Right	8
	C. The Ishikawamaro Incident	10
	3. Completion of the temple	11
	A. Up to the completion of the temple	11
	B. The scale of the cloister at Yamadadera	12
	4. Subsequent history of Yamadadera	14
	A. Ishikawa no Toshitari and Yamadadera	14
	B. From the Heian period on	15
Chapter III	Outline of the excavations	19
	1. Progress of the excavations	19
	2. Excavation areas	22
	A. Location of the site and its environs	22
	B. Division into sectors	25
	3. Outline of each excavation	27
	A. Excavation no. 1 (pagoda, middle gate)	27
	B. Excavation no. 2 (main hall, cloister northern sector)	28
	C. Excavation no. 3 (lecture hall, cloister northern sector)	31
	D. Excavation no. 4 (cloister eastern sector, eastern limit of temple precinct)	33
	E. Excavation no. 5 (cloister eastern sector)	35
	F. Excavation no. 6 (cloister eastern sector, northeast part of temple precinct)	37
	G. Excavation no. 7 (south gate, area south of temple precinct)	39
	H. Excavation no. 8 (cloister eastern sector, treasure hall, western limit of temple precinct)	41
	I. Excavation no. 9 (southeast part of temple precinct)	43
	J. Excavation no. 10 (cloister southern sector)	44
	K. Excavation no. 11 (area south of temple precinct)	46
	L. Other excavations	46
	4. Excavation logs	48
	A. Excavation no. 1	48
	B. Excavation no. 2	50
	C. Excavation no. 3	53
	D. Excavation no. 4	56
	E. Excavation no. 5	60
	F. Excavation no. 6	62

	G. Excavation no. 7	63
	H. Excavation no. 8	66
	I. Excavation no. 9	68
	J. Excavation no. 10	69
	K. Excavation no. 11	71
Chapter IV	Site description	73
	1. General overview	73
	A. Formation of the topography at Yamadadera	73
	B. Stratigraphy and archaeological features	76
	2. Descriptions of archaeological features	87
	A. Ground preparation within the cloister	87
	B. Middle gate	94
	C. Cloister	98
	D. Main hall	125
	E. Pagoda	135
	F. Other features within the cloister	141
	G. Lecture hall, priests' living quarters, and features in their environs	150
	H. Treasure hall	154
	I. South gate, precinct outer wall southern sector, and features in their environs	158
	J. Precinct outer wall eastern, northern, and western sectors, west gate, and features in their environs	174
	K. Other features	192
Chapter V	Artifacts	201
	1. Mokkan (wooden documents)	201
	A. Features yielding mokkan	201
	B. Mokkan recovered in the excavations	204
	2. Roof and other tiles	207
	A. Round eave tiles	207
	B. Flat eave tiles	216
	C. Round roof tiles	246
	D. Flat roof tiles	249
	E. Rafter-end tiles	278
	F. Verge (gable overhang) tiles	284
	G. Ridge gap-filling tiles	290
	H. Ridge tiles	293
	I. Ridge-crowning tiles, box-shaped tiles, etc.	298
	J. Shibi (fishtail-shaped ridge-end ornaments)	303
	K. Ridge-end tiles	313
	L. Roof tiles with letters, incised symbols, etc.	318
	M. Other tiles (non-roofing), earthenware piping, etc.	328
	3. Pottery	331
	A. From fill used to prepare the grounds for temple construction, and from features in underlying strata	331
	B. From features related to the construction of the temple	335
	C. From features related to the Nara period	337
	D. From the main drainage channel SD 625	338
	E. From the environs of the treasure hall (SB 660B)	340
	F. From the environs of the lantern (SX 012)	342

G.	From the environs of the cloister eastern sector (SC 060)	342
H.	From features related to the Heian period	344
I.	From features related to the medieval period	345
J.	Sue ware incense burners	347
K.	Lead-glazed stoneware	348
L.	Pottery with ink or incised inscriptions	349
M.	Ash-glazed stoneware	349
N.	Porcelain	350
4.	Buddha-image tiles, clay stupa	351
A.	Tiles with twelve seated-Buddha images	351
B.	Tiles with four seated-Buddha images	354
C.	Small-scale single Buddha-image tiles	355
D.	Large-scale single Buddha-image tiles	356
E.	Clay stupa	356
5.	Wooden implements, bone implements, etc.	358
A.	Wooden implements	358
B.	Cloth, bone implements, etc.	369
6.	Copper plates with five Buddha images and embossed Buddha images	370
A.	Copper plate with five Buddha images	370
B.	Copper plates with embossed Buddha images	372
7.	Metal and glass objects	374
A.	Metal objects	374
B.	Coins	380
C.	Glass objects	381
8.	Items related to casting, stone implements	382
A.	Items related to casting	382
B.	Stone implements	387
9.	Architectural members	390
A.	Members from the cloister	390
B.	Members from the treasure hall (SB 660B)	416
C.	Members from the precinct outer wall, eastern sector (SA 500B)	419
D.	Bracket arms of unknown provenance	422
E.	Pillars of unknown provenance	423
10.	Architectural materials of stone, wall materials	424
A.	Stone materials	424
B.	Wall materials	436
Chapter VI	Interpretations	441
1.	Reconstruction of the arrangement of buildings within the cloister:
Construction plan and the shaku of construction	441
A.	Introduction	441
B.	Coordinates and orientations of the various features	441
C.	Concerning the reconstruction of the arrangement of buildings within the cloister	443
D.	Concerning the reconstruction of the arrangement of buildings outside the cloister	448
E.	Summary	453
2.	Observations on the architectural characteristics of the various buildings and on the Yamada road issue	455
A.	The main hall building	455
B.	The cloister building	457

C. The treasure hall building	470
D. The lecture hall building	475
E. On the Abe-Yamada road	479
3. Typology of roof tiles and identification of their uses in various buildings	487
A. Round eave tiles	487
B. Flat eave tiles	499
C. Round tiles	512
D. Rafter-end tiles	516
E. Ridge gap-filling tiles	517
F. Shibi (fishtail-shaped ridge-end ornaments)	519
G. Ridge-end tiles	524
H. Construction and repair at Yamadadera as seen from the roof tiles	534
4. On the pottery from strata below Yamadadera	540
A. Introduction	540
B. On Haji ware dish C	540
C. On Sue ware dishes H and G	542
D. Summary	546
5. Changes in archaeological features at Yamadadera	548
A. Features of Phase I	548
B. Features of Phase II	548
C. Features of Phase III	553
D. Features of Phase IV	557
E. Features of Phase V	560
F. Features of Phase VI	563
G. Features of Phase VII	564
Chapter VII Concluding remarks	565
Supplementary Discussion
1. Buddha-image tiles and copper plates recovered from Yamadadera: On their iconography and date of manufacture	570
2. An analysis of the lacquered wooden implements recovered from Yamadadera	581
3. Dendrochronology of architectural members recovered from Yamadadera	584
4. Identification of type of rock by naked eye examination of stone materials from the main hall at Yamadadera, and inferences about the source	585
5. Scientific examination of the metal implements recovered from Yamadadera	586
6. Scientific examination of the wall materials recovered from Yamadadera	589
7. Observations on the color of the iron oxide used for the “red ink” inscriptions on tiles recovered from Yamadadera	595

1. Chronology of Yamadadera	7
2. Location, duration, and area of each excavation	21
3. Names of the large and medium-sized precincts of each excavation	26
4. Coordinates of benchmarks of each precinct	26
5. Inspections conducted on the occasion of construction, etc. at Yamadadera	47
6. Relations of contemporaneity and chronological differences among strata and archaeological features, part 1 (main hall, pagoda, cloister northern sector)	78
7. Relations of contemporaneity and chronological differences among strata and archaeological features, part 2 (eastern part of site, cloister eastern sector, precinct outer wall eastern sector)	80-81
8. Relations of contemporaneity and chronological differences among strata and archaeological features, part 3 (south gate, precinct outer wall southern sector)	85
9. Elevations of pillar base stones (cloister eastern sector)	106
10. Elevations of pillar base stones (cloister southern sector)	115
11. Elevations of pillar base stones (cloister northern sector)	121
12. Sequence of strata in fill near the main hall	128
13. Sequence of strata in fill near the pagoda	136
14. Numbers of recovered mokkan	201
15. Red ink lines and inscriptions, black ink lines and inscriptions, by type of tile	236
16. Red ink lines on four-ply arc style flat eave tiles, type A	237
17. Numbers of flat eave tiles recovered from Yamadadera by type of tile	241
18. Classification of method of finishing on interior surface of rafter-end tiles by type of tile	281
19. Classification of the shapes of nail holes, in section	282
20. Amounts of various parts recovered of single-bodied shibi	312
21. Classification and numbers of spatula-incised “大” characters on flat tiles	321
22. Numbers of tiles with letters, incised symbols, etc.	327
23. Classification of square tiles	328
24. Numbers of nail holes by their actual or inferred locations	353
25. Stone implements recovered from Yamadadera	388
26. Measurements of bearing blocks (daito) of the cloister	406
27. Rafter spans and roof tile widths of the cloister	414
28. Stone materials used in the buildings at Yamadadera	430, 431
29. Basic shaku unit in preliminary reports up to the present	441
30. Coordinates of main building remains	442
31. Orientation of the cloister	443
32. An examination of the north-south dimension of the cloister using four varieties of basic shaku units	444
33. Positional relationship of the cloister, pagoda, and main hall, part 1	444
34. Positional relationship of the cloister, pagoda, and main hall, part 2	445
35. An examination of the east-west dimension of the cloister using four varieties of construction shaku units	445
36. An examination of the dimensions of architectural members using four varieties of construction shaku units	446
37. Reconstruction of the basic shaku unit of B-style renjimado [window with vertical railing]	465
38. Frequencies of lining cloth seam impressions and shapes of overlay seams in the clay paste, by pattern of bucket mold impressions	505

39. Correspondences of lining cloths and sub-types of four-ply arc style flat eave tiles, type A I	506
40. Results of dendrochronological examinations of architectural members recovered from Yamadadera	584
41. Compositional elements of iron oxide granules (electron X-ray diffraction analysis)	596
